

DEMOCRATS ARE YET DISCUSSING

They Can Not Fix on the Head of the State Ticket.

IS JONES OR ROSE

Both Men Have Many Supporters, and Strong Promises of Delegates.

(Special A. D. Dispatch.) Milwaukee, Aug. 22.—Democracy still seems to be in doubt as to just what is the best course to pursue in the question of nominating state officials for the coming fall campaign. The governorship is still the stumbling block that bids fair to rupture the party lately cemented together. Thus far the two candidates in the field that are receiving the most support are Mayor David S. Rose of Milwaukee and Burr W. Jones of Madison.

Jones Leads. Thus far Mr. Jones seems to have the lead. He has secured the solid Dane county delegation and has united among his delegates such men as Rogers, Bird, Alyward, Regan and others. These men make a strong quartette to start with and men who are all fighters to the core, never knowing when they are in a losing battle. Mr. Jones has an enviable record as a congressman to back him and except for a few years when he left the free silver element to vote for Buckner he has always been a strong democrat of the substantial kind. His solid endorsement from Dane will have much influence upon the state at large and may land the nomination for him.

Rose's Chances. Dodge county and Sheboygan Falls Democrats are for Rose solid. The candidate persists in the statement that he will not try and capture the convention but will accept it if it is offered him. He still persists that he will not dictate the nomination of a single member of the state ticket and that he will support the choice of his party whoever they put up.

As to LaFollette. He says: "Six months ago I did not deem it possible to defeat Governor LaFollette if he were nominated. Now I do. I firmly believe that the democrats have more than a fighting chance for the election of a state ticket. The cause I assign for this change of sentiment is due to the farmer element who now understand that his methods mean increasing of their taxes."

Anderson. Monroe county has come out solidly against both Rose and Jones and have chosen delegates that favor Dr. W. A. Anderson of La Crosse as long as he stands a chance of nomination. Dr. Anderson is steadily gaining in strength and it is now assumed that he will be a factor in the fight at the convention. His great strength lies in the northern tier of counties.

Book Men Busy. It has been ascertained that W. E. Goddard representative of the Ginn & Co. book house is looking for the Superintendent of Public Instruction. Mr. Goddard is one of the men who were instrumental in the turning down of Mr. Harvey and nominating Mr. Cary, at the republican convention and the rumor has created much comment.

GEN. FRANZ SIGEL GOES TO HIS REWARD

Franz Sigel, soldier, publisher, lecturer and politician, was born in Sinsheim, Baden, in 1824. He graduated from the military school at Karlsruhe in 1843 and was in the army of Baden from 1843 to 1847. In the latter year he severely wounded his antagonist in a duel and resigned from the army for political reasons. In 1848 and 1849 he was a leader in the Baden revolution, and at that time and later had much military experience in Europe. He came to the United States in 1852. Until 1858 he published a military magazine in New York. For the next three years or until the war broke out, he was at the head of the St. Louis schools.

He organized a regiment and battery at the opening of the war and was commissioned brigadier general. He participated in many battles. He edited the Baltimore Weeker from 1863 to 1867. Removing to New York he was a candidate for secretary of state on the Republican ticket. He was appointed collector of internal revenue in 1871. He was elected register of the city of New York for the term of 1871 to 1874. Later he lectured and edited papers.

From 1876 to 1896 he affiliated with the Democratic party, but sided with McKinley after 1896. At the time of his death he was at the head of an advertising bureau and was the publisher and editor of the New York Monthly.

BELOIT FAIR IS STILL BOOMING

PROGRAM IS GOOD

Horses Made Good Time in the Fast Speed Contests Thursday.

ORDER WAS PERFECT

(Special To The Gazette.) Beloit, Aug. 22.—Thursday was Beloit day at the Interstate fair and the crowd in attendance packed the grand stand, bleachers and spacious grounds, not less than 20,000 people being in attendance. Old timers said it was a regular Elkhorn fair crowd and that the Beloit fair closely resembled the famous fairs of Walworth county. Every shop and place of business in Beloit closed down at noon Thursday and all the people left in the city at two o'clock would not have made a respectable sized Democratic caucus. A feature of the attendance was the great number of farmers and their families present. They came in a continuous stream from all directions and seemed to be much pleased with the fair.

The race card in the afternoon contained two splendid events and one very poor one. In the free-for-all pace three horses were entered and William Mack, driven by his owner, George Castle, of Chicago lowered the track record twice from 2:12 3/4 to 2:12 1/2 and then to 2:10 1/2. General Arthur, owned and driven by Mr. Hayes of Chicago, held the record of 2:12 3/4 made last year and was in the race with the Castle horse, but could finish no better than third, one owned by M. D. Madigan of Chicago being second.

The 2:10 pace furnished really the best sport of the day. There were four horses started, but the finish was between Bob O'Rell and Courtland. The former won the race after the most sensational driving finish. The crowd cheered the winner roundly.

The 3:00 trot was a very tame affair to say the least. Many thought the third heat was crooked and that the driver of Spley L., the favorite, pulled his horse. The driver was cautioned by the starter during the progress of the heat to drive his horse out, and was afterwards told by the judges that his work was very coarse, or words to that effect. The heat, however stood as finished. Spley L. won with Duke second.

The Summaries. One sad incident occurred during the day. Elmer C. Hoff, a youth of 16, who has been a consumptive for several years, came to the fair, was seized with a hemorrhage and died in ten minutes, before medical assistance could be secured. The body was removed to a local undertaking room. The father works for the John Thompson Mfg. Co.

The operators of the big wheel have formed very decided opinions regarding the alleged sporting propensities of Beloit people. They claim that they have done the lightest business here in years. The fact is, Beloiters were well cleaned out by the rank robbers allowed to operate on the grounds last year and are wise on anything that looks attractive.

The awards in floral hall have been made, as also in the sheep, cattle, poultry, horse and swine departments. Prof. Carlisle of the university of Wisconsin judged the horses and cattle, and Prof. Little, also of the state university judged the sheep.

Friday's racing program includes a free-for-all trot in which is entered Standard, a horse with a record of 2:06. The track record is expected to take another tumble in this race.

The local police are having a far easier time during the fair than they dared to hope for. Not a single skin game operator, pick-pocket or crook of any kind has shown up and not a complaint has been received.

GREEN GOODS MEN ARE IN TROUBLE

Four Noted Bunko Men Are Now in Toils of the Law.

New York, Aug. 22.—(Special.)—What is said to be the biggest roundup of green goods swindlers ever made by the federal authorities in this city was announced today. Five men and a woman were taken into custody and an entire green goods plant was captured. Four of the prisoners, Joseph R. Baker, Elmer Brown, S. Contlieb, and the latter's wife, were arrested in Newark and George Brown and Thomas Henry in this city.

According to Postoffice Inspector Michael Boyle, Antonio Caperes, a butcher in New Haven, Conn., paid $300 in cash and received green goods in return. Many complaints of green goods victims have reached the postoffice recently and the alleged plant was located in Newark after much work. In the house all manner of green goods paraphernalia was found, circular letters, a dozen or more of the little trunks, and piles of green paper. Henry and Brown were arrested last night at a ferry. All the prisoners were arraigned today and held in $2,500 bail each.

TWO ACCIDENTS NEARLY FATAL

NARROW ESCAPES

The Machines Were Running Slowly, or It Would Have Been Worse.

BADLY SHAKEN UP

(Special By Scripps-Melroe.) London, Aug. 22.—Two nearly fatal accidents to automobilists were reported here today. Sir Thomas Lipton being one and The Sultan of Morocco being the other. Both men have recently taken up automobilism and but for the fact that they were both running slowly they would have been killed.

Sir Thomas Lipton. Sir Thomas Lipton narrowly escaped a serious injury in an automobile accident near London this morning. He was riding at a moderate rate of speed when his machine twisted on him and crashed into an iron railing. Sir Thomas was badly shaken up but not seriously injured.

At Tangiers. The other accident occurred at Tangiers while the Sultan was trying his machine and he was severely shaken up and frightened.

AGUINALDO WILL BE A FARMER

He Wants to Engage in Agriculture Once More in the Cavite Province.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 22.—(Special.)—Aguinaldo will pursue the peaceful pursuit of farming, and will not, in all probability, pay a visit to this country or go upon the lecture platform. Advice received by the war department report a feature of deep interest in the future movements of Aguinaldo and Mabini. The counter-felt edition of George Washington has decided to return to a rural life in Cavite province and re-engage in agriculture. He is reported to appear more cheerful than during his imprisonment but firmly declines to enter into any political discussions. It is believed that Mabini will refuse to take the oath of allegiance. His last written communication from Guam said, among other things:

Nabini Not Reconciled. "I cannot get over the idea that others shall legislate for me and for my people, and in so doing govern us. It is better to die in exile than to prostitute my conscience, for at best I have but a few years to live." Mabini is a paralytic and physically is almost helpless, although his mental vigor is unimpaired.

CHEERS FOR ANARCHY AT NEW YORK MEETING

Sympathizers With Jersey Silk Mill Riots Declare "This Is a Bum Government."

New York, Aug. 22.—One thousand anarchists, at least one-third of whom were women, held a meeting to denounce the prosecution of William McQueen and Rudolph Grossman, the pair who were arrested after the disgraceful scenes in Paterson, N. J., early this summer on the charge of inciting the striking silk dyers to riot. Both McQueen and Grossman spoke, and each was received with tumultuous applause.

McQueen, in a pronounced cockney accent, denounced all governments. He expressed regret that his "dear old friend, John Most," should have been sent to jail and compared his own case with Most's.

"This," said he, "is a bum government."

McQueen declared the police started the Paterson riots. "An orderly procession was organized to pass the houses of the non-union people who refused to strike and to induce them to strike," he said. "When the people began to come out of the mills the police were sent for and that started the riots. The police began to fire, and I do not blame, but rather admire, the people who shot back at the police. Let the working people take guns and shoot down the dogs who shoot them."

Grossman spoke in German. "Three cheers for anarchy," he shouted, and the cheers were given lustily.

WANT TO SAVE THE LANDMARKS

Boston Patriots Fight Plan to Change Historic Old South Church.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 22.—A tremendous protest is being made by citizens of Boston owing to a scheme for making an arcade under the portico of the historic Old South church, in a general plan for widening Washington street. A big office building is to be erected near by and the guards of historic landmarks are rushing out the minute men. The usual shower of letters is descending on friends of the widening enterprise.

MARINE OFFICERS ARE REGRADED

Will Rank According to Previous Service Seen Before Appointment.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 22.—(Special.)—The navy department has made a decision which affects the rank of marine officers appointed from the civil life under the naval personnel act. Under that act the president was authorized to fill vacancies in the marine corps from civil life, and several groups of appointments were made, the largest being eighteen, on May 23, 1900.

Rank Determined. The appointments, after passing their examinations, were commissioned by numbers, and took rank according to their standing at the examinations. In thus ranking these officers the navy department followed the law and practice in the case of cadets graduating from Annapolis, who rank according to standing.

On Previous Service. Recently one of the marine officers, Lieut. Arthur J. O'Leary, questioned the action of the department, in view of section 12109 of the revised statutes, which provides that officers of the same grade, when appointed and commissioned on the same date, shall take rank according to previous service. Lieut. O'Leary himself, like the most of the other marine officers appointed from civil life, had seen service as a volunteer during the Spanish war, and he claimed the benefit of the statute. The department upon the recommendation of Acting Judge Advocate General Hanna, has sustained his contention. This ruling will involve a re-adjustment of the rank of all marine officers appointed from civil life since the Spanish war.

LEADERS SAY TO WATCH MOVES

CANDIDATES TALK

Republican Chess Board Has Queer Spawn in the Play.

DOUBT SINCERITY

ALL IS NOW AT SEA

(Special A. D. Dispatch.) Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 2.—From every city of the state where the political spirit exists, comes word that the republicans of that district hope that Governor LaFollette and his friends are sincere in their protestations of bowing to the will of the people as regards the return of Senator Spooner. While they rejoice in the word that comes from Madison still they have their doubts as to the sincerity of the statement.

Doubt Governor's Sincerity

Doubt seems to exist in all sections. The leading republicans shake their heads and say that they hope it is so but it is best to be sure of the legislature in case the governor changes his mind. West Superior, Racine, Kenosha, Portage, Eau Claire and Hudson all send in word they hope it is so but couple with it a word of warning to the voters to take no chances.

Warning Is Sounded

To many who have watched the campaign from its start the sudden change of front appears to disguise some deeper motive and the continual cry of warning that went up before the action of the state convention and its famous Spooner plank endorsement with the rope to it, is doubly renewed.

It will be remembered that previous to the convention, while the delegates were being chosen, the same cry that no opposition to the return of Senator Spooner would be made was raised and then the action of the convention knocked this idea in the head by the passing of a practically anti-Spooner plank. With this in view, the leaders of the republicans of the state issue a word of warning to all voters to be more careful than ever in their choice of assemblymen and senators.

Buckstaff Questions

From good authority it is learned that General Bryant will issue a stinging rebuke to Mr. Buckstaff for daring to question his authority or rights as chairman of the state central committee. The answer will not be made until after the state central committee meets and he has had a chance to confer with all the members of the committee. Then a general letter will be issued which will be a stinging rebuke to the man from Oshkosh.

Spooner Sentiment

Throughout the state the sentiment in favor of Senator Spooner and his return to the senate seems to increase day by day. The questions called out by the administration forces in their alleged acknowledged bowing to the will of the people has demonstrated more clearly than ever the great Spooner sentiment that exists in the state. As one prominent republican of the state said last night: "It is certainly true that a great majority of the Republicans and of the people of Wisconsin earnestly desire that Senator Spooner be returned to the senate. In recognizing this popular desire the opponents of the senator have displayed considerable political judgment." This seems to express the general sentiment throughout the state.

HUGE SNAKE ATTACKS YOUNG GIRL CHARMER

Fourteen-Foot Reptile Fastens Its Fangs in the Hand and Leg of Its Victim.

Revere, Mass., Aug. 22.—A 12-year-old girl, who tried to enact the role of a snake charmer, was attacked by a python.

The woman who usually does the act was sick and her place had been taken for several nights by the girl. She had no trouble in managing the huge reptiles until a newcomer was added to the collection, a snake fourteen feet long.

When the snakes were brought on the new reptile rushed at the girl and fastened its fangs in her hand. The child fought the snake bravely and succeeded in releasing its hold, but before she could escape from the cage the reptile seized her by the leg.

There was a rush of attendants to the rear platform to assist the little actor. Before they could reach her she had fainted away. Manager Welber beat off the reptile with a club, and catching up the child made his escape from the cage, but not before the snake had fastened its fangs for an instant in his hand. Other attendants phoned the snake to the floor with long iron forks and got it back into the box before any further damage was done.

REPORT ON LEAF GROWN IN SHADE

EXPERTS ARE DOUBTFUL OF ANY GREAT SUCCESS.

THE OPINION IS NOT FINAL

"Tobacco raising would be successful here, but I do not think that results would be equal to those in Connecticut, and I do not think it would be safe to develop the industry here at present. If such an experiment should be taken up in the state I think it would be wiser to begin in the lighter soils of Vernon county and northern Dane where better results have been accomplished in out of door tobacco raising."

Such was the statement of Prof. Milton Whitney of the Bureau of Soils, the Department of Agriculture, Washington, after a trip through some of the immediate tobacco tracts. Accompanying him on his trip were Congressman H. A. Cooper, Dr. J. A. Bonesteel, Prof. Fallyer and F. S. Baines.

Members of the Party. Congressman Cooper had made this trip to Janesville in order to gain a personal acquaintance with the shade growing system of tobacco raising, and had come at this time in order to meet with Prof. Whitney whom F. S. Baines had induced to come west to look over the field with a view to its further developments. Mr. Bonesteel has been in charge of since July 1 of the soil survey of this area of the state, and he has been assisted in his work by Mr. Fallyer. The two were particularly fitted to explain to the visiting gentlemen the peculiarities of the soil at various points, having carefully worked out a soil map of this district.

Went East Last Year. Last year Frank S. Baines made a trip to Connecticut to look over the tobacco fields in that state where the experiment was first made of raising plants under cover. On returning he made up his mind that the same experiment would be successful in this state and as a result he built a one acre covering for that purpose on the Schnell farm to the east of Janesville, and S. B. Hedges built a similar tent of two acres area. For some time he has been in correspondence with Prof. Whitney who has been from the first identified with the Connecticut movement, in the hope that he would personally inspect and pass judgment upon the plants grown here.

Thursday's excursion was the result of this. Mr. Whitney arrived in Janesville Wednesday evening, but he did not start out upon the drive through the surrounding country until Mr. Cooper arrived late Thursday morning. The route taken was first to the east to the Schnell farm, thence out by the county house, and over the four-mile bridge, taking samples of earth at various points from the tobacco fields along the way and ending at the Hedges farm to the west of town.

Final Judgment Later. It cannot be said that the results of this trip were in any way final although Prof. Whitney was enabled to gain a good idea what the local conditions are for such an experiment. The final test will come by January first when the crop has been harvested, cured and fermented. His opinion for the present is that which has been given above.

Plants Finely Developed. In the Baines shed on the Schnell farm were found the nearest typically developed plants from the Sumatra seed, the cultivation of which is the prime object of the shade growing method. The leaves attained the round form which marks the perfect specimen but the growth was not as heavy as that on the Hedges land, which by the way, was planted later than the other. The plants there were inclined to be rather more rank, and the leaves less perfectly shaped. Prof. Whitney considered the tobacco here very good and saw no reason why in time, Wisconsin might not excel in wrapper leaf as in binder tobacco.

Lack Knowledge. It was with the purpose of gaining a more complete knowledge from experiment, and not with any certainty of success the first season that Mr. Hedges and Mr. Baines took up this year's trial of shade grown tobacco. The difficulty that has arisen is that there are many points of technical knowledge that are lacking and it is feared that a part of the crop may be weaker on this account.

W. H. Cobey, an expert from Connecticut, has been here for some time past superintending the harvesting of the crop but he will be unable to remain here long enough to oversee the entire process of curing and fermenting the leaf. For this reason Mr. Whitney urged Mr. Hedges that he send his crop to Connecticut to undergo these final processes.

Mr. Hedges gave no final answer yesterday but he stated that he had desired to try the experiment for himself. He considered his curing rooms equal to any in the country, and wished the personal experience handling this first crop. Mr. Whitney on the other hand was very anxious to have that part of the process left to the Connecticut experts, as it would give him a very exact index of the adaptability of this soil for the purpose.

Future Possibilities. If the industry were to be taken up more extensively in this region the government agricultural bureau would doubtless send an expert to have the entire process in charge, and supply that technical knowledge which can only be gained from long and intimate acquaintance with the actual work.

The profit of the industry is far greater than the present system, amounting in cases to $1,000 actual net profit an acre in Connecticut, and the hope is that the same results may be achieved here. Connecticut land that was formerly considered worthless has been utilized in this direction and is now more valuable than the other lands under cultivation.

Great Advantages. Under this system the plants are not cut down and hung up in the shed as is usual but the lower leaves are taken off from time to time as they ripen leaving the nourishment to go toward the development of the leaves that remain, and in this way a plant should result nine feet high with an average of twenty five leaves where fifteen is the present rule.

Prof. Whitney gives the cost of production and the average selling price as deduced from his experiences in Connecticut as follows. The cost per pound of growing the leaf is thirty seven cents, for sorting and fermenting seventeen cents, and the average selling price $1.20 a pound, with a maximum of $1.53. The average yield for an acre was 1400 pounds which gives no mean profit. The entire period from the time the first leaves are stripped until the last are taken is normally six weeks.

Great Expenses Locally. Mr. Baines reported that the total cost of erecting his shed which covered one acre amounted to over four hundred dollars, while Mr. Hedges expended nearly a thousand dollars on a shed that had twice the area of that of Mr. Baines. These figures were noted with interest by Prof. Whitney as they were considerably greater than those which prevail in the East. The price paid for the tent cloth per acre is $160 while the local men paid $257. Another item of difference was found in the posts which were used. In Connecticut chestnut posts were used at a cost of eighteen cents which will last from five to eight years. The Janesville men paid thirty three cents for cedar posts which will be good twenty years from now. So that the great point of variance lies in the price paid for the cloth, and to Prof. Whitney this was inexplicable.

Congressman Cooper Enthusiastic. Throughout the trip Congressman Cooper was loud in his exclamations of delight in the beautiful appearance which the growing tobacco presented under cover. An often repeated remark was that he knew very little about tobacco growing but that as vegetation the plant under the cloth certainly presented a fine appearance.

His object in looking over the fields was partly to satisfy his own curiosity as to the methods of growing shade grown tobacco, and rather more to talk from personal experience in case Congress should bring up the matter of making an appropriation to aid the state in cultivating the industry.

Mr. Cooper spoke in glowing terms of the future which such an undertaking might present financially to Wisconsin, and in connection with the subject he launched forth upon an enthusiastic account of the work that the Agricultural Department has been doing, and especially of some of its recent work as learned from his conversation with Prof. Whitney.

TWO FIRE ALARMS STARTLE MANY

Insignificant Blazes Give Fire Drivers a Chance to Dodge the Crowds.

The fire department was called out at 8 o'clock on account of a small fire in the office of the Janesville Water Co. caused by crossed electric wires. It was soon extinguished with little loss. At 8:30 crossed wires started a blaze at Thoroughgood's and box 23 was pulled. The department was soon on the spot but their services were not needed the blaze being extinguished before they reached the building.

CONGRESSMAN IS NOT LOQUACIOUS

HON. COOPER A PRISONER OF THE ELKS.

HE AVOIDS STATE POLITICS

Talks Freely on National Affairs, But Refuses Definite Opinions.

Congressman H. A. Cooper was arrested yesterday afternoon by the Elks Police and hauled before the bar of justice on the charge of being a statesman. He plead not guilty to the charge and was fined fifty cents. His friend, Prof. Milton Whitney, chief of the bureau of soils, laughed at his friend's predicament and was taken in custody by Officer W. G. Wheeler after an exciting chase down Main street and fined fifty cents for laughing.

Both men laughed merrily over the occurrence and Mr. Cooper remarked that it was the first time he had ever been accused of being a statesman and he was so astounded that he told the truth.

MA. COOPER TALKS

Mr. Cooper was seen at the Myers House later in the evening. He appeared very much pleased with the results of his trip here and what he had seen of Rock county farmers. He said that his object in taking the trip was to become more fully acquainted with the crop conditions of his district so that he could understand any legislation that might come up on the questions most dear to tobacco growers. Of the state political situation he said:

His Opinion

"In my mind state and national politics should be radically divorced. The United States Senators and congressmen meet with far different conditions than are presented to the voters of the state. While they are elected by the electors of one district in their own state their vote represents and effects the citizens of all of our states and territories. The legislation they pass is not directed upon one little township or county but the country at large. National, not state, affairs are the paramount issues with them. With this fact known I reiterate that state and national politics should be separated."

State Affairs

"I am most sorry that the present trouble has arisen in Wisconsin. I am more than afraid that the republican party can not afford the internal squabble that is going on. Congress may be minus a few republican congressmen at the opening of its next session and this we can not afford. There are many important questions of legislation that will come up for vote at its opening and should we lose the majority we have now it would be most disastrous to the party at large. We can not afford to take any chances at present on dropping from the control. Why it would be awful for the party to be in the minority in the middle of President Roosevelt's term. The President appreciates this and is closely watching the situation in the various states where contests are on. He is personally looking to Wisconsin and the return of Senator Spooner."

Spooner Situation

"As I said before I firmly believe that state and national politics should be kept separate. I do not care to state my opinion as to the platform adopted at the state convention. That satisfies me. As to Senator Spooner's return to the senate I have been assured that it is certain and from the present outlook I see no reason to disbelieve the statement."

Voters Decided

"From the conventions for the assembly and state senate held thus far it looks to me that the Spooner element was in the majority and I am glad to see that he will be returned. He was a great friend of McKinley's and is much thought of by President Roosevelt. A decided change in the middle of the present administration would mean the defeat of the party at the polls two years from now."

Other Talk

Mr. Cooper talked very interestingly on questions outside of the state situation. He spoke of the Philippines and what it would mean to the country at large to abandon the islands at the present time. He told little instances showing the ability and statesmanship of Governor Taft and his handling of the Philippines. He firmly believes that Gov. Taft is just the man for the place and that under his rule the country will progress rapidly. He said that the idea of a man with the prospects of being one day on the supreme bench, giving it all up for the position of governor of a lot of islands shows that Judge Taft is just the man for the place and is more than interested in his work.

Of Roosevelt

In speaking of Roosevelt, Mr. Cooper said: "I do not believe we have ever had so strong a president as Roosevelt is making us. He is a wonder and his work will be appreciated in years to come. He is a powerful, forceful man, whose indomitable spirit forces measures through that are necessary for the country. He is now following out the plans laid down by the lamented President McKinley, but when he completes these he will be ready to enter onto his own and they will be as good, and as necessary to the country at large as are the present ones."

WEEKLY CROP BULLETIN

General Remarks: The past week has been unfavorable for the stacking and threshing of the harvest owing to the rains and continuous cloudy weather, however, the rain was very beneficial to corn, and although the nights were unusually cool, the crop continues to make great advancement. Frost did some damage to corn and potatoes on the morning of the 12th and 13th in the northern section, but no damage resulted in the middle and southern sections. There is a notable difference in the tone of reports of the apple crop, which shows a much larger yield than was expected. The rains have placed the soil in good condition for plowing in most counties but delays the working of the marshes.

Temperature: The temperature continues unusually low, the nights being exceptionally cool; frost occurred in the northeast section and caused some damage, but nothing of a serious nature.

Precipitation: Moderate rains occurred the middle of the week sufficient to check the stacking and the threshing, but resulted in benefit to the corn. The northeast section is still deficient in moisture.

Corn: Notwithstanding the weather is against the rapid advance of corn the crop makes steady and thrifty growth. The ears are well set and in silk; it will in all probability be sufficiently matured before the frost occurs.

Winter Wheat and Rye: Considerable of a crop has been threshed and shows a good yield of wheat, of fair quality and heavy straw. Rye shows a very fair yield, but the grain is somewhat light in weight. There is some complaint of weevil.

Oats, Barley and Spring Wheat: Oats are being threshed from the shock, the yield is very heavy but slightly inferior in quality. Barley indicates a good yield but slightly dark in color. Spring wheat is a fair to heavy crop. The rains much retarded the stacking and threshing during the week. Threshing is also made difficult on account of the great tangled condition of the straw.

Clover: The second crop of clover is ready for cutting and is a very heavy growth. Marshes continue very wet.

Potatoes: Early varieties show a heavy yield and of a good quality. Late varieties show a thrifty growth, but there is some complaint of blight in a few localities.

Tobacco: The crop is being rapidly harvested, it is unusually heavy and of a fine quality.

Apples: The tone of reports of the apple crop has improved greatly; some sections show unusually heavy crops and the quality is excellent. Few localities, however, still continue poor. The blight appears to have run its course in some localities.

Northern Section

Halway, Taylor county: Rye and early oats are a good crop, late sowing of oats rusted; potatoes and corn making good headway; no threshing done.—J. Olsen.

Elcho, Langlade county: Oats and wheat are being cut and harvesting commenced; oats looking good; rather dry for potatoes; corn backward and hurt by frost.—A. F. Easton.

Unity, Marathon county: A light frost on Tuesday morning in low places, but no serious damage done; corn is making rapid growth, ears well set and in the silk; potatoes a heavy crop, very few bugs; gardens good; apples ripening, a fair yield; no plums.—Charles Wood.

Southern Section

Racine, Racine county: Corn is making a good growth; some threshing done and the yield of rye and oats is large; some complaint of potatoes rotting; cabbage doing well; apple crop good.—B. R. Bones.

Westby, Vernon county: Grain all cut and some threshing done, a fair yield; tobacco good; corn looks good; second crop of clover a good stand.—Paul T. Paulson.

Emerald Grove, Rock county: Grain too damp to keep when threshed; corn doing well but needs warmer weather; nights cool but no frost as yet.—H. More.

Salem, Kenosha county: Corn is a very large growth; threshing from the field shows yields very large and fair quality; some stacking done.—B. H. Stocker.

SAYS HE STOLE 10,000 LETTERS

EXTEND OVER A LONG PERIOD

Man Was So Clever That He Baffled Chief Wilkie of the Secret Service, but He Is Finally Caught by Means of Deceits.

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 22.—Ten thousand letters containing money have been stolen from the Minneapolis postoffice during the last three years, and a single mail clerk, Harvey S. Rogers, is alone responsible.

This statement is made on the authority of Postal Inspector Gregory, who came here from the south for the purpose of unearthing the wholesale theft of letters which has been driving the department to distraction. Chief Wilkie of the secret service spent some time here himself, but he was unable to fathom the details of the robbery, and sent for the man who ran down the Rathbone-Neely frauds in Cuba.

Trying to Locate Thief.
For three years the department has been trying to locate the thief, and not until Wednesday did the officials claim to have sufficient evidence to warrant an arrest. Then Clerk Rogers was called into the office and calmly informed that he was suspected. He denied any guilt, and then the inspector brought forth his apron. On it were pinned, thirty-seven letters containing money and around them decoy letters. He said that he wore the apron in the morning, but did not have it on during the afternoon. However, a man was stationed to watch his movements, and he testified before United States Commissioner Abbott that he saw Rogers quit work and place the apron just where it was found by the inspector.

Complaints Are Many.
Day after day complaints have come into the postoffice about letters that contained money being lost. Over 1,000 complaints have already been received, and the officials state that not more than one loss in ten is ever reported. Inspector Gregory declares that Rogers has worked alone and is the man wanted for the theft of all the mail. If his charge be true about 300 letters a day must have been stolen.

Rogers was assorting clerk, and it is claimed had such a delicate touch with his finger that he could easily tell whether the letters contained inclosures or not. He had been in the postal service fourteen years.

Was in the Army.
When the Spanish war commenced he went to the Philippines as the postmaster of the Thirtieth Minnesota regiment and served with that command until it returned. He is popular and always moved in good society. He spent his money freely but was not extravagant, and the officials cannot explain where all the stolen money went to if he took it. He was held in the federal grand jury under $2,000 bail.

WILL EXAMINE EYES IN SCHOOL
Secretary of Illinois Health Board Extends Tests to all Counties.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 22.—Dr. J. A. Egan, secretary of the state board of health, has sent to all county superintendents of schools in the state a circular regarding the action decided upon by the state board of health for the protection of the sight and hearing of school children. It was found from an examination of pupils of the Chicago schools that one-third of the children had defective eyesight, and the board has decided that an examination of the eyes of the pupils shall be made in every school in Illinois yearly.

DISASTER IS SURE TO FOLLOW

When Business Is Centralized in the Hands of the Few He Fears That Financial Mistakes May Involve the Whole Country.

New York, Aug. 22.—Russell Sage holds some positive views on the trust question, which are completely at variance with those held by J. Pierpont Morgan, America's leading exponent of the trust problem.

Mr. Sage took occasion to utter some emphatic statements concerning the progress of the combination idea. These views, spoken by the aged financier at the time Mr. Morgan began his first full business day after his European trip, were taken by some financiers as a note of warning that the trust problem is being overdone.

Not Opposed to All Trusts.
"First, let me say that I am not antagonistic to Mr. Morgan," Mr. Sage explained this evening. "He and I have been very friendly from a business standpoint for many years, but we differ on the trust question. I have been misquoted and my views exaggerated when I was quoted as saying that combinations of all kinds are a menace to the government. That is not right. I believe those which have been formed with the right idea and on a sound basis will live, but the others will fall and die of their own poor construction."

Fears Inflated Securities.
"What I am afraid of is the constant formation of inflated securities which are disposed of to the American people with a good brand on them."

"Securities have been made in great quantities and sold at high prices on the idea that economies to be effected will give them the arbitrary value which has been placed upon them. This theory will be exploded later on, for there will always be competition. When the crash comes it will be a national disaster. Everyone will be more or less affected, and the industrial stagnation will be far greater than if half a dozen small concerns became bankrupt. When a great big company goes under thousands will have to bear the loss."

Few Should Not Control.
"Another thing I fear is the centralization of big industries in the hands of five or six men. The control of industries of our country should be more widely distributed, but if the trust idea continues to progress at the same speed that it has done with in the last year all the leading industries of the nation will be left in the control, as I said before, of half a dozen men."

"When half a dozen men direct the business and financial policies of the great industries there is danger that they may make a mistake in judgment. It would be different if a hundred or a thousand men controlled these industries."

Points Out Bad Combine.
"If a part of them erred the rest might be affected, but they would be able to stand it. If, however, a mistake was made by this small group of powerful men then the whole nation would be plunged in financial loss and ruin."

"Of course, some combinations are good things. I do not know any particular instance that I can cite which could illustrate my idea of what consolidation is good business, but I can give one that has been a bad thing. That is the copper combination."

Inquiry Is to Be Secret.
Wellington, N. Z., Aug. 22.—The representatives of the press have been excluded from the inquiry into the alleged overcrowding of the troopship Britannia.

TOURNAMENT FOR GOLF PLAYERS

TO PLAY ON LOCAL GROUNDS
NEXT TUESDAY.

SUPPER AT THE CLUB HOUSE

It is Hoped That Thirty-Two Players
Will Enter the Coming
Contest.

On account of the Elks' Carnival and so many of the members of the Janesville golf club being interested in it, the time for holding in the scores of the qualifying round for the home tournament has been extended until Monday, the 25th.

All scores for the qualifying round must be in by Monday night so that the handicaps and games committee can pair off the players for the first round of match play for Tuesday.

Want Many Players
It is desired to have at least 32 players in this tournament. It has been decided to have four flights of 8 players each so that the poor players will have an equal chance with the good ones of winning a prize. It is thought that in this way the tournament will be equally interesting to all who qualify.

So far twenty-one players have handed in their scores to Secretary Baker and it is expected that there will be enough more to fill out the match handed in by next Tuesday.

The Scores
The scores so far are:

Club Supper
On Tuesday evening after the conclusion of the first round of match play supper will be served in the club house by the ladies of the St. John's Lutheran church, who have been secured for the occasion. This will be the first club supper in some time and no doubt there will be a good crowd in attendance.

Improve Grounds
The green committee of the club have been making every effort to get the grounds in good shape and they are now in better condition than at any time this season.

NEW SORT OF TYPEWRITER

The Famous Lambert Being Sold Here
For $20 Each.

The famous Lambert typewriter machine has finally reached Janesville after causing all sorts of excitement in the large Eastern cities. This famous machine will be exclusively sold in Rock County by T. P. Burns, who will act as agent at his dry goods store which will be his headquarters. The price is $20. The few points of this typewriter are many.

Better than any $100 machine for usual work—manifolds well.

Writes more clearly and beautifully—type never gets foul—self-cleaning; no trouble to take care of it; it doesn't wear out of order.

Prints from type direct—no ribbon; type linked by pad; no nest of long levers; it is as if the types were in the tips of your fingers; the printing is done without machinery.

It is indeed wonderful. Touch a letter—it tilts and prints—that's all there is to it. Machine is neat and pleasing. Writing is graceful action; will develop home, social and professional uses.

First cost is clear; the yearly expenditure will be substantially nothing.

Price $20 strange as it may seem. Enough to make it thoroughly well, because there is so little to it.

The money paid for typewriters generally is mostly for selling them—this one sells itself—not by its price—its price is its least advantage—but by its goodness, fitness, agreeableness, its value, its usefulness. Fully guaranteed.

Miss Fielding, although young in years is a master of the violin in all that the word implies. She has studied under some of the greatest teachers in this country and critics of the Chicago papers have been loud in their praise of her work. Miss Fielding expects soon to go to Europe when she will continue her work under some of the world-famous masters.

Notice To The Public
In spite of the Moorish village and the Old Plantation tents blocking our business entrance our trade this week on Mocha and Java coffee at 25 cts. per pound and on Jap tea at 50 cts has been most prosperous. Our many patrons on these two favorite brands have spread the report broadcast to such an extent that the sales in our coffee and tea department have doubled of late. Our motto at all times has been to sell the best for the money and your money back if not satisfactory. C. D. Stevens. No. 7 North Main street.

Lunette, The Flying Lady

Very little needs to be said of this most remarkable young lady. The press of the world at large has been full of her exploits in mid-air for months past. Defying all laws of gravity and apparently nature itself. Her feat is visited daily by thousands of curious people to see her, and come out more than satisfied, but still curious to know what supernatural force maintains her in the air, as she soars out over the heads of her awestricken audience. Daring, hither and thither like a frightened bird. An opportunity of a life time presents its self to you now to see the mysterious young lady.

The Statue Turning to Life

This very sterling attraction is playing to increased patronage each day, and is more than deserving. To see a solid block of marble, hued by the skilled sculptor, into the form of a beautiful woman, placed upon the stage, under the glare of many electric lights, and there before your eyes, gradually, from an inanimate figure, take on life and stand before you God's greatest creation, a beautiful, living, breathing woman. The mystery surrounding this phenomenal transformation holds the audience breathlessly spellbound; and as animation ceases and she again resumes her form of stone, the audience are one and all asking "How is it done?" From the perplexity of each contemner gravity and apparently nature itself. The beautiful Trilby, seen also under the same tent, is alone worth the price of admission.

The Coronation of King Edward is pronounced also under the same tent, on account of the non-arrival of the tent in which the coronation show is to be given and Manager Morris has placed this show in the Statute Turning to Life tent without any additional admission fee.

Means the Order.

A good many kicks were made to Chief Hogan today in regard to his orders about rubber balls, dusters and confetti. He is determined to carry out the order and the kickers received no satisfaction only that they better not disobey the order.

LOOK FOR BULLET WITH AN X RAY

WHO WAS SHOT.

A DELICATE LITTLE MACHINE

The Mechanism Is More Than Wonderful in Its Simplicity.

H. R. Binkley of Chicago, representing the American X-ray company has been in the city for a couple of days showing his machine to the local physicians.

It is really wonderful and quite a novelty to any one that has never seen one of the machines used, to see how easy it is to see the bones in any part of the body when placed in front of the light.

Two-Inch Plank

Mr. Binkley showed a number of gentlemen that a two-inch plank was no obstruction to the light's rays and the bones of the hand or foot could be plainly seen through the board.

The light is operated by a storage battery and almost any degree of light or power can be obtained.

Sees No Bullet

Dr. James Mills experimented on Carl Hinde, the young boy, who was shot the Fourth of July with a 22 pistol. The machine showed all the ribs and bones of the body, but the bullet could not be located. The doctor thinks that the ball must have struck a rib and glanced off, as the machine showed everything perfectly and would have shown the bullet if it was still in the body.

JANESVILLE MAN IS FOND OF HOME

He Pays an Exquisite Compliment to His Wife During the Floral Parade.

Tributes to womanhood and the home are always appreciated by people who recognize the importance of the family life and the large measure in which the fair sex contributes to it. To such people the beauty of the spontaneous compliment, related in the following incident will appeal:

It was yesterday's floral parade which gave opportunity for an expression of chivalrous sentiment, which though it came from the lips of the workman, betrayed the heart of a poet. The incident occurred at a meeting of the local pension board. The members of the board were very busy examining applicants and were in the middle of an examination when the music of the band announced the approach of the floral parade.

Naturally the physicians wished to see the procession and the board meeting informally and hastily adjourned. Dr. J. B. Whiting remembered the half-dressed pension applicant, who was probably as desirous of seeing the parade as were the physicians, and he hurried back and gave the man a blanket, telling him to wrap it around him and come into the doctor's office where a good view could be obtained.

By the time the window was reached a part of the parade had passed and Dr. Whiting expressed regret, saying that it was too bad that the man should miss the queen. Quickly and promptly the man responded: "Oh, I don't mind not seeing her. I have my queen at home."

NEWS OF THE CITY IN BRIEF.

James Boys: The melodrama, the "James Boys in Missouri" was presented to a fair sized audience at the Myers Grand last night. The play is a romantic love story and the leading parts were well portrayed by George Klunt and Ada Hearn. The remainder of the cast was well balanced and scenery was first class.

Narrow Escape: The driver of the Park house bus drove onto the railroad crossing at Academy street yesterday afternoon when the danger signal was sounded by the gateman. Just as he got his team and bus well onto the Northwestern tracks he discovered a big freight engine pulling a big string of cars right on top of him. The engineer opened his emergency brake and the driver just managed to back the team so the engine cleared them as it went by. Had he been a second later there certainly would have been a bad wreck.

Baseball Ends: It is probable that the Janesville semi-professionals will allow last Wednesday's base ball game to stand as the last on this season's schedule. The men feel that there is no point in going to the trouble of practicing and playing against out of town teams, when it means a net loss of eight or ten dollars on each game. The contests this week against the Clinton Maroons were both far above the average and while the locals were defeated in both cases they had no reason to feel ashamed of the showing that they made.

Miners Blown to Pieces.

Richford, S. D., Aug. 22.—William Ladd and Peter Olson started an air drill in the Ohio Deadwood mine, when they struck a charge of giant powder that had not exploded by blasts. Both men were blown to pieces.

Decides Grain Price.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 22.—The arbitration commission of the board of trade has decided that the closing price of July wheat, 68 cents, was not a fictitious price, and that defaulted July contracts should be settled on that basis.

Soldiers Restored to Duty.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 22.—Adj. Gen. Smith has restored to duty without trial Privates Arthur McDonald, J. T. Breaky and Chester Green, Co. K, Seventh Infantry, who were dropped for desertion.

HONOR PAID TO E. B. HEIMSTREET

STATE PHARMACEUTICAL ASSOCIATION SESSION CLOSES.

COMPLIMENTS JANESVILLE MAN

He Wins Special Prize and Approval From the Members Present.

Throughout the annual meeting of the Wisconsin Pharmaceutical association which came to a close at Milwaukee yesterday the name of E. B. Heimstreet of Janesville was in the forefront in all of the transactions of that body. As president of the association he was the first to greet the opening session, and as retiring president he made the last speech of the convention thanking the members of association for their courtesies to him during his term of office, and in welcoming the newly elected president William H. Barr of Milwaukee.

Honored By Society

The greatest compliment paid to Mr. Heimstreet during the convention was on the second day in the election of a candidate to succeed H. G. Thompson of Marinette when his term of office expires next winter. Mr. Heimstreet stated in advance that he was not a candidate for the office, but despite the announcement he headed the list on the first ballot by a rousing vote. It was only when he again positively declined the honor that his name was dropped.

Wins A Prize

President Heimstreet also came before the convention in an address which he delivered during the first day's session and a prize was awarded for a paper on a special topic which was submitted by him for the general competition.

Pleasant Scenes

The season was not altogether favorable for a strictly business session, and the days were more or less given up to pleasant excursions to various points of interest in the city. A Venetian night at Blatz park was the feature of the first evening and on the second evening an elaborate reception and dance were given for the druggists at the Masonic temple. The afternoon of the closing day was spent in an excursion to Waukesha beach where an elaborate entertainment in the way of sports, a banquet and a grand ball had been prepared.

In Justice Court

At ten o'clock this morning in Justice Reeder's court the case of Val. Blatz vs. Josephine Lamonde, alias Rose Sherman, was called. Dougherty & Scott appeared for the plaintiff and announced that an agreement had been arrived at between the parties concerned three days ago, and the case was declared dismissed. The case was for the recovery of $18 on goods purchased by the plaintiff.

OSTEOPATHY.

Mrs. W. had been a constant sufferer for two years on account of varicose veins. The pain caused by these veins was so severe that she could not get any rest at night, often lying awake until two o'clock in the morning. I made a thorough examination and found the legs swollen, so that she could raise them only a few inches from the floor. The muscles over the sacrum and lower lumbar vertebrae were very rigid. After one month's treatment she could sleep all night and had no pain day or night. The limbs were very much reduced in size. Before taking treatment she could walk but very little after treatment she could walk as far as ever and go up stairs with perfect ease.

Mrs. H. came to my office suffering from malaria and facial neuralgia. She like hundreds of other people in Sacramento, had heard of Osteopathy, but did not know whether we could treat malaria. I examined her and told her I was sure I could help her case; like most people she wanted to know just how long it would take to cure her. I told her that I thought I could cure her in one month's treatment. She has lived in Sacramento for ten years and has had malaria almost every spring and was tired of taking medicine, so decided to take a month's treatment. After one month's treatment, she had no return of malaria. She recovered more rapidly and felt stronger than when recovering from similar attacks under the drug treatment.

Mrs. J. has suffered several years with rheumatism, causing enlargements of the joints of the fingers. After two months' treatment she is greatly improved, and has recommended a number of her friends to try Osteopathy.

Mrs. S. had been subject for a number of years had been subject to nervous headache. At the time I was called to see her she was confined to her bed, and had every symptom of nervous prostration. On examining the spine I found it very sensitive to the touch, especially in the upper cervical and dorsal regions. A marked improvement was noticeable from the first week's treatment, and at the end of the second week she was able to do her work. She continued treatment four weeks longer and now feels better and stronger than she has done for several years.

Retrospect.

It is an evil day for the wife and mother when she scans her worn face in the mirror, and asks the question, "Does it pay? Does it pay to sacrifice health and happiness to wedded love?" But there is another question which rightly takes precedence of Does it pay? It is this: "Is it necessary to sacrifice health and happiness to wedded love?" Half a million women answer, No! They have been weak and have been made strong by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. They were sick and "Favorite Prescription" made them well. It will do the same for almost every woman who gives it a fair and faithful trial. It stops weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It tranquilizes the nerves and encourages the appetite.

"I expected to become a mother, and a threatened miscarriage greatly weakened me," writes Mrs. J. A. Nations, of White Springs, Searcy Co., Ark. "and my old disease returned. My husband got another doctor for me but I seemed to just drag along and get no better. At last I told the doctor that if his medicine did not help me I would go back to Dr. Pierce's medicine. I did so, and by the time I had taken them one month I could do my own housework, except washing, and tended my garden too. I was sicker than I had ever been while waiting baby's coming since my first baby came (this one was the sixth child). She is now eleven months old and is a healthy child, as for me, I feel as young now as I did at eighteen years of age; am thirty now. I can cheerfully recommend Dr. Pierce's medicine to all suffering womankind."

DAILY CARNIVAL NEWS

TABLES TURNED ON THE ELKS' POLICE

They Are Lured Into the Hayes Block, Arrested, Tried and Fined.

Tables were turned on the Elks' police in a very amusing fashion this afternoon when they were arrested and held for trial and their patrol confiscated and driven into the country. The police court had just opened for the afternoon session at 2 o'clock and Mayor Rose of Milwaukee and Mayor Richardson had just been arrested and placed in jail when a message summoned the police to the Hayes' block to arrest Auctioneer W. T. Dooley.

The Elks' police rushed into the Hayes' block only to be surrounded by about fifty men. The police were locked up and a most amusing trial followed. Dennis Hayes presided most magnificently as Judge and E. H. Ryan was the prosecuting attorney. John W. Hogan conducted the prisoners one by one from the cell. Each one was charged with impersonating an officer. Al McIntosh was fined $3, or six months in a brewery with a muzzle on; Frank Sutherland, $3, and Henry Edwards, $2, and they all paid the fines which the judge pocketed. "Happy Hogan" was paroled so that he could try to raise his twenty-five cent fine. Curtis Carpenter, who drove the wagon, was released. Later Elks' Judge B. H. Baldwin was carried bodily from the Elks' court to the Hayes block, charged with being drunk and disorderly, was severely beaten and his trial was postponed forty-eight hours to give him an opportunity to sober up.

The Elks' police were not daunted, however. They secured the city patrol and arrests went merrily on.

A Novel "Barker"

In connection with the Moorish palace, on North Main street there is located the "barker" sanseparel of the entire Morris-Berger combination. The gentlemen is inclined to be portly with a very genial smile and his announcements are of a type that mark him as little less than a genius. In the most bombastic terms he outlines the charms of the members of his company, and with an evident candor that makes doubt of the merit of his show impossible. It is well worth while to attend the performance if it is only to hear him announce his living tableaux, "pictures no artist could paint" and see some of the artistic effects which he has produced by the means of powder and paint, especially that exquisite pose entitled "Hope for the Morning Star, or Looking for a Cheese Sandwich," a creation of my own brain, gentlemen, one that required a great deal of time to perfect, by actual count at least, anyway, three or four minutes.

Carnival Notes

Chief Hogan also found out how it seems to be wanted by the police even though they did not rock him up.

Chief of Police Baker of Madison paid the penalty of being in town with money in his pocket before the tribunal of the Elks.

Bushels and bushels of confetti were thrown last night on the streets and on horns and rattles made the night a gala one from the standpoint of the spectator.

Clerk of the court, T. W. Goldin, made a daring escape from the Elks' jail yesterday and after knocking over the turnkey ran off in fine fettle.

A special meeting of the Elks will be held this evening. All members are earnestly requested to attend as business of importance will come before the meeting.

Attorney Will Wheeler was one of the noted prisoners locked up by the Elks' police yesterday. He paid his fine and was discharged and later became a special detective for the Elks' force, arresting Congressman Cooper and Prof. Milton Whitney.

Wants Police Protection: H. S. Gilkey received a letter yesterday from W. S. Henry, mayor of Jefferson, saying that if Mr. Gilkey would guarantee him police protection he would visit the carnival and would arrive here at 3:15. In order that Mayor Henry might have the protection he desired Alderman Gilkey had the Elks' patrol wagon at the depot to receive him and he was escorted with great ceremony to the Elks' court where the usual honors were accorded him.

Elks Meet Tonight: A special meeting of the Elks will be held this evening. All members are earnestly requested to attend as business of importance will come before the meeting.

FUTURE EVENTS

High dive from the ladder at the foot of Court Street hill this evening at 7:30.

Closing night of the carnival tomorrow night.

High dive tomorrow at 1:30 and 7:30 o'clock.

Special Notice

By request of the managers of the various attractions and the Elks' committee all persons are strictly forbidden to throw any more confetti. The sale and use of rubber balls and feather dusters are also strictly prohibited. Pay attention to this notice or you will get into trouble. By order of

Chief of Police.
